Two hundred extra policemen have been sworn in to protect them.

TOR BRANN ASSAULTED.

Waco, Tex., Oct. 6.—This afternoon W. C. Brann, editor of the "Waco Tribune," was publicly beaten by Judge Scarborough, George Scarborough and R. H. Hamilton. The assault began in the Providence building, and was continued for half a block down the street until Brann fell in a heap on the street car track. Brann was bleeding from a dozen savage cuts on the head and face. In less than five minutes a thousand excited citizens had gathered on the scene, and there was every indication of trouble. Six doctors were in evidence, and for a time it looked as if nothing could avert a row, but the sheriff and his deputies were on the scene and forced the crowd back and restored order. Brann's assailants were arrested.

Judge Scarborough is a trustee of Baylor University and has a daughter in the university. He says Brann's recent attack in his paper on the university is what caused the trouble this afternoon. Young Scarborough and Hamilton are students in the institution, and say that Brann's attack was beyond endurance.

After the affair, Brann made this statement:

"I was standing at the elevator when suddenly three pistols were stuck in my face. As I was descending the steps blows were rained on my head. In front of the building stood my carriage, and I was prevented from entering it. Finally I sank from exhaustion and loss of blood. As I was helped into my carriage, I shouted, 'Truth will mount again, or something like that.'

Brann's assailants gave bond and will be tried tomorrow. Excitement is at fever heat and further trouble is feared.

GLOOMY OUTLOOK.

Forty-Six New Cases of Yellow Fever and Five Deaths at New Orleans.

Four Physicians, of Biloxi, Miss., Stricken Down With the Plague.

New Orleans, Oct. 7.—The record for yellow fever was broken to pieces yesterday, forty-six new cases and five deaths being reported. This makes a total of forty-three deaths here, with a total of 425 cases to date and 134 recoveries. The situation is daily becoming more serious, particularly as the large payroll is mounting higher every day. There is now a quarantine guard force of more than 600 men guarding 250 infected localities, and the cost is about $30,000 a month for this work alone. Should the number of fever cases continue to increase as it did yesterday and the day before it is believed the finances of the health authorities cannot stand the strain, and they will be forced to abandon the rigorous system of quarantining each and every house.

Biloxi, Miss., reports five new cases and one death tonight, a total of ten deaths to date. Four of the physicians of the town are down with the fever, among them Dr. Harolson, executive officer of the board.

Mobile shows four new cases, but no deaths, and Edwards sixteen new cases and one death, a total of sixteen to date.

Surgeon General Wyman has authorized the location of a fumigating plant at a point outside the city on the Illinois Central road, and another at Hurricane, Ala., twenty-three miles east of Mobile. This action was taken because Alabama, Mississippi and parts of Texas have refused to receive any mails, even though they were fumigated in the city, and the department was forced to fumigate the mails outside the city. Everybody in the fever infected districts of Mississippi, Alabama and Texas is interested in Guitierrez and his investigation of Galveston, and every town and hamlet is itching to get a chance to declare quarantine against that town.

THE RAILROAD COMPANY

Didn't Do Much to That House of Mr. Owen's!

The Illinois Central has won the third round in the contest with Mr. Brann Owen.

Mention was made last week of the fact that Mr. Owen did not propose to give up his river front property, in the right of way ceded by the company to the company, for the amount awarded.

He accordingly had built a small frame house directly where it was intended the trestle should pass, but while he was looking for someone to put in it, the railroad company took possession of it and built a fence around it.

This possession it retained until today, when the pile driver reached the place. A rope was lowered, attached to the house, and it was hoisted into midair by the huge machine and dropped off to one side, and the trestle now passes over where it stood yesterday.

A gas or oil heater for the bathroom is no longer a luxury, but a necessity. Scott Hardware Co. sells the best.

EVANGELIST MULHOLLAND.

Paducah's Erstwhile Postmaster Back.

HE IS WARMLY WELCOMED.

Is Accompanied By Evangelist W. Glenn Taylor of New York.

Has Not Changed.

WILL HOLD A MEETING HERE

Evangelist Hugh Mulholland, formerly of this city, who is well known to everybody who has lived here any length of time, arrived at noon from Louisville, accompanied by Rev. W. Glenn Taylor, of New York. The two are evangelists, and came here to hold a meeting of four or five days in Windsor Chapel, on South Third near Adams.

Mr. Mulholland stated to a Sun reporter that he was glad to get back to Paducah, and that his home is now in Boston.

"How long do you expect to remain?" he was asked.

"As long as the Lord keeps me," he replied.

He is looking well, and has not changed a particle since he left Paducah two years or more ago.

He and his assistant went to the Palmer House, where Mr. Mulholland was warmly greeted by all of his old friends whom he chanced to meet.

Later, on the streets, he attracted no little attention, and received the warmest welcome from scores of old friends.

His meeting begins tonight at Windsor Chapel, and will no doubt last as long as the interest will justify.

As is doubtless well known, Mr. Mulholland was converted soon after leaving Paducah, and has since done valiant services in the cause of Christianity.

He has exhorted in many cities and states, but recently has been at Boston.

HARD SHELL BAPTISTS

Begin a Big Revival Tomorrow at Mt. Moriah.

There May Be a Clash of the Two Factions—Big Preparations for the Meeting.

An important religious meeting will begin tomorrow at Mt. Moriah church, near Sharpe, Marshall county.

It is to be a three days' revival of the Hardshell Baptists, and elaborate preparations are being made for the hundreds of visitors expected.

One man came to the city this morning and purchased 100 pounds of bakers' loaves for the guests he alone expects to entertain.

The meeting is of more significance than might be supposed and trouble is expected.

The Hardshell Baptists are sadly disrupted in Southwestern Kentucky, and there may be a clash of factions.

Rev. Boaz is leader of one faction and Kirkland Brothers of the other. These have caused all the dissension in the Soldier Creek Association, which is the name of the denomination which begins its meeting tomorrow.

It appears that the factions resulted from the beliefs of the respective leaders.

The churches, it appears, are divided on the doctrine of predestination, one faction being led by Eld. Dick Boaz, of Fulton, and the other by the Elds. Kirkland.

Eld. Boaz, it is said, believes in the absolute predestination of all things before the beginning of time, while the Kirklands and their followers are opposed to this doctrine.

A very warm time is anticipated at the meeting tomorrow, and it is believed by many that a division of the church is inevitable.

BRUNER'S CLOSE CALL.

Burned in a Fire at Metropolis.

His Livery Stable Destroyed By Fire This Morning.

The livery stable of Z. Bruner & Co., at Metropolis, and a blacksmith shop, adjoining, were destroyed by fire this morning at 3 o'clock.

The origin of the fire is a mystery. Mr. Bruner had been to meet a train, and when he drove in left his buggy near the door and retired to the office.

The flames had gotten great headway when he was awakened by the rushed out, and pushed out the buggy which had been left near the door. This is all of the stock that he saved.

VAGRANTS GALORE

CASES BEFORE JUDGE SANDERS.

Orange Brown Acquitted of a Charge of Petty Larceny.

VAGRANTS TOLD TO SHUT UP.

Will Webb and Vance Marable, colored boys, were charged with throwing a rock which struck Mr. Beverly Reed's residence on Jackson street. The boys denied throwing the rock, saying that John Buford threw the rock, if any was thrown. The case was left open.

Peter Jameson, of Mayfield, was charged with breach of ordinance, committed at the Union depot night before last. The case is set for tomorrow.

The case against Orange Brown, colored, charged with petty larceny, was taken up in the police court today. The wagon he was charged with stealing was loaned to Thomas Clark by the owner, William Williamson. About August 1st the wagon broke down on Ninth and Court streets and Clark left it there. When he went back it was gone.

Brown claimed he bought the wagon from a white man, and had a new wheel put on it. He used it publicly, and it was found in his possession by the owner on the street one day about two weeks ago. The defendant was given the benefit of the doubt and discharged, the court awarding him the wheel.

Robbie Owen, colored, pleaded guilty to using obscene language and was fined $3 and costs.

Rhoda Green, colored, was charged with telling Susan Montgomery that she was a morphine and cocaine fiend. She denied the charge. She said the other woman fussed so much she remarked that she "was so full of morphine she didn't know what she was doing." The latter then accused the other people of using cocaine. The case was left open.

Several dairies and one white man were charged with vagrancy. Officers Eaker and others arrested them at the morning grays last night.

White Parker said he was at work at Capt. Johnson's, at Fourth and Clark streets, but hadn't found any other place to sleep. His home is in Alabama, but three years ago he left home with a string of horses and went to Pennsylvania, and has never been since.

Henry Coleman, running on the Danbar, he lives at Evansville, and came here Sunday.

John Mitchell is a shoemaker who has been employed at various shoe shops here. In addition, he is teaching a brass band, and played last summer at Labelle Park. He could not get in his boarding house last night, and went to the ways to sleep.

Thomas Blinn has been at work for the Kentucky Fruit Company. His home is in Louisville.

Andrew Watson, of Mississippi, had been working on the W. K. Phillips and the City of Paducah. He went down to the ways "to see a friend," and dropped off to sleep. He was present at the shooting on the Phillips Monday night.

Charlie Robertson, of Danville, Tenn., has been working on the Phillips and Clyde, but likes a change of jobs now and then. He said he wouldn't be caught in Paducah any more if released, and made a bee line for Memphis when told to go.

Will Brown, of Evansville, got off the Buttrick last Thursday when she laid up. He hadn't been able to get on any other boats, because few of them are running.

Jim Hudson had been working for Mr. Charles Michael and sleeping on the Sheffield. The Sheffield left yesterday, and he had to get another place to sleep.

"Fencing John," a crippled darkey, said he couldn't do work if he could find it. Sometimes, he said, he had to call some one to help him up in the morning. He said he didn't want to go to the lockup, because it made a fellow too stiff. He was released.

A case against Leona Edwards, charged with using insulting language towards Lou Coleman, was dismissed. All the men charged with vagrancy were dismissed.
